

Session ①

Background

- Emerald Port, Part of Terrors/Erastad, is Raided by Pirates and the Military of Vyre, under some Pretense of a never legally ended war.
- In the morning after the Raid, Guards from Both the home nation and Vyre are seen working together, rounding up travellers, dissidents, or even people who were fighting against Vyre the previous night, other than like, one captain or something who was killed in the town sq.
- It seems that Vyre has taken control of the town, with the captain being executed for not participating in a raid on civilians.
- TLDR: Vyre has assumed control, and are rounding up anyone they think looked at them wrong.
